ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR AUDITOR.

We are authorized to announce JOHN B. CUNNINGHAM, Auditor, is running, candidate for the office of State Auditor, subject to the action of the Democratic State Convention.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce W. W. COOKMAN, a candidate of the State of Kentucky—subject to the will of the Democratic party.

THANKS TO THE OWENTON HERALD for kindly comment on CLIMAX.

IT certainly looks strange that the enemies of the Louisville Dispatch and the enemies of Wat Hardin and W. J. Stone are making the Courier-Journal their mouthpiece.—Cynthiana Democrat.

HON. W. B. THOMAS, of Eminence, Kentucky, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor. The Herald knows nothing of his record but suppose as we have not heard of him in a quiet inoffensive sort of a fellow and suggest that he is the man for the nomination.—Burkeville Herald.

Sorry to say so, but the Herald confesses itself unknown.

HON. C. J. BRONSTON was invited to make a speech before the students of Central University at Richmond, by Chancellor Blanton, a prominent gold-digger, a supporter of Palmer and Buckner, thinking Mr. Bronston would tickle the fancy of the students with a eulogy upon the yellow metal. But the shrewd lawyer took advantage of the opportunity and made a fine silver speech that fairly took away Chancellor Blanton's breath. It is said at present no more invitations will be extended Mr. Bronston to speak to the students of that noted school.—Nicholasville Journal.

The Lexington Gazette continues with unabated zeal its fight for justice to Commodore Crittenton Watson, the foremost naval officer of our nation, in every meritorious particular. Closing a lengthy and strength appeal to all Kentuckians to demand justice to this courteous, Christian gentleman, the Gazette says:

"Where were Sampson and Schley when Watson was standing on the bridge beside Faragut as he fought his way into the harbor of Mobile? Read the brave old Admiral's report; of that and other sea fights in which he was seconded and sustained by this gallant Kentuckian. It makes one's blood boil to think of the injustice that has been done him by the Navy Department."

As we do not get a letter every day from Win. Jennings Bryan, the Associate Editor prizes very highly the two page autograph communication from our next President, received some weeks ago. We had sent him a letter written by an Ohio soldier, a Republican, wherein he praised Mr. Bryan's kindly treatment of his regiment encamped in Florida at that time, and contradicting the silly reports circulated that Mr. Bryan wanted to quit the army, when the fact was his regiment, the Third Nebraska, was being decimated by fever and was wholly unable to live in a southern camp.

In the course of his reply, Mr. Bryan says: "Am glad that I was the commandment of a Republican soldier, and yet I only did what every officer ought to do!"

LEXINGTON, KY.

Watch That Lady

Rev. McGinn, of Versailles, delivered an instructive lecture on Christianity as opposed to Agnosticism, at the Christian church on Sunday.

The members of Mt. Pleasant Christian church are notified that a meeting of the congregation will be held the second Sunday every month. Preaching by Rev. T. O. Martin on the 4th and 5th Sundays.

The peace treaty was ratified in the Senate on Tuesday.

The Philippines attacked the Americans and thousands of the former were slain, with small loss to our troops.

The formal announcement of Hon. W. W. Combs for nomination for the Legislative race, was elsewhere made. Mr. Combs made a record distinguished for hard, effective, conscientious work, earning for himself the title of "Honest Combs." He is warmly supported for re-nomination and asks the closest scrutiny of his record by all those undecided as to their preference in this race.

IF nearly all the criticisms recommended to the President for brevity for gallantry under fire at Santiago and the battles theretofore, we notice in the New York Sun the name of Capt. Henry W. Wygant, of the 24th U. S. Infantry, who is brevetted a Major. The gallant Captain was stationed at Central University for three years, in charge of the cadet battalion, and when called for active duty carried with him the respect of everybody here. His charming wife soon followed, to Fort Douglas, Utah, with one son, Philip. Harry entered the regular Army, whilst Benoyard entered the Navy. Strange, but true, all three saw service in the Spanish war, the Captain and his son Lieut. Harry Wygant, of the 8th U. S. meeting face to face at Bloody San Juan. Benoyard in the mean time was on blockade duty in front of Ilavanna.

The Salt Lake City Tribune has this interesting narrative from the Captain's lips:

IN THE THICKEST OF SAN JUAN FIGHT, BUT ESCAPED UNHURT.

Capt. Henry Wygant, rugged and strong as that bright spring day last April when his regiment left for the war, has returned to Fort Douglas, the State that does not give the ballot to women will be an exception to the rule.

THE CLIMAX, last week, inadvertently omitted the credit due the Interior Journal for an editorial on Charley Bronston's speech. As this explanation to its author was made by postal card upon discovery of the mistake, it is renewed here only to emphasize the truth of every word contained in the clipping.

Chancellor Blanton took slight exception to the Interier Journal's editorial because of the "intimation that there is any sort of restriction on free thought or free speech in the University" and we acquit the University of any such alleged intimation. But that is secondary to the point in question.

The joke on the Chancellor is what tickled ninety-nine per cent. of the audience that heard Mr. Bronston's speech, and the laugh will go 'round again when it is learned that the Chancellor was not only not surprised, but really expected to be led through a slaughter house to an open grave. In the course of a half-column article in Friday's Interier Journal, the Chancellor says:

"Mr. Bronston and I talked the matter over, and we agreed on the subject of the address."

"I knew he could not discuss the 'Evils of the Republic' from his standpoint without touching on these ques-

"So that there was no surprise on my part; on the contrary I greatly enjoyed the eloquent speaker."

Indeed, "surprise" is a mild term wherewith to describe the feelings of the Chancellor. He was so startled and amazed, we are informed by eye witnesses, that when the speech was over he "lost his hat, couldn't see his overcoat, and couldn't find the door."

The fact is the Chancellor would gladly have crawled through a knot-hole in the floor. At any rate it is safe to say, that the next time Mr. Bronston addresses the law class of C. U. the subject assigned him will not be the

"Evils of the Republic and How to Evade Them."

The Richmond Climax.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8.—1890

Dr. Hobson, Dentist.

Corn is being delivered at $1 per bushel.

The colored city school is finished and ready for occupancy.

Butchers and meat peddlers must take up $25 for city licenses.

Col. Thomas Thorpe is, we are glad to state, out again after a severe illness.

J. W. & L. A. Ballard sold 80 acres of land near Mayde, to J. J. Moore for $17,500 per acre.

Mrs. J. W. Ballard has been on the road to her Whites Station home for the past week.

Mr. Arthur Terrell, son of N. B. Terrell, was admitted to the practice of law last Friday.

Potts & Danson, of White Station, bought of J. W. Adams, 300 barrels of corn delivered at $1.35.

Wager & Cohen bought of Col. Jno. D. Harris 30 head of extra nice 1000 lb. hogs at $34, also a load of hogstail.

A most desirable residence on Broadway for rent. See notice and call on Mrs. Thompson Ramsey.

Mrs. Harriet L. Campbell gives up housekeeping and takes a room with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woods.

The Climax did an unusually good business on Monday. We still have by several hundreds the largest list of subscribers.

Ex-Postmaster Heathman, of Newby, supplied and fell during the heavy sheet last Sunday and broke his leg below the knee.

Some one telegraphed the Times that Madison's assessment was increased $70,000, when the fact is it is only about $5,800.

Horace Decker bought of T. K. Marshall his horses and lot known as the Cross Doughter place, at Red House, for $25.

The following bills were offered for payment on Monday: Jos. Heathman, Columbus Perkins, Naomie Todd, B. S. Hunting, H. S. Clark, Alvin Stevens.

See the Big Steel Range in Douglas & Sonnen's show window. The greatest invention of the age. Weighs over 600 pounds and sits at a height which will induce you to buy.

"Expansion" was the subject discussed at the meeting of the Branden Club last Thursday. When eating time came all were on the affirmative side of the question.

FOR SALE.

Nice Cottage on Main street in Irvine, with four rooms and hall, and all necessary out-buildings. For sale cheap.

Particulars call at this office or write Miss Jane Daniel, Irvine, Ky.

East Christian Church Entertainment.

Prof. R. C. Adams will deliver an interesting lecture on Music at the East End Christian church on next Friday night. A good quartette will be on hand.

Post Office at Crucifer.

Mr. F. G. Shryock says a petition is in circulation for a post office at Crucifer voting place. At present Crucifer, three miles distant, is the nearest office. Mr. Price Williams is circulating the petition.

Can't Miss It.

Just look at the sign at the entrance between Rice & Arnold's and Arthur's Arcade and you will have no trouble in finding Miss Temple Oldham's millinery store, which is up stairs. Her stock of millinery is very complete and she invites an inspection. Jan 25th.

Supervisors Complete Their Work.

The Board of Supervisors, composed of N. B. Doethers, C. G. Broadus, Sanford Oldham, square Hughey, Wm. Fenlon, G. W. Buller, and T. J. Curtis, completed their work on Monday. There is a decrease in everything except farming land, which is increased $4,630. The total assessed valuation of the county, as corrected and reported to the court, is $8,557,240, an increase of $5,710 over the assessed valuation of 1889.

Good Horses Beginning to Pay.

Matt S. Cohen bought of J. T. Hughey, of Danville, an extra nice 3-year-old gelding, by Winks, 220 lbs., by C. F. Clay, 1st dam by Dickster, dam of Mattie II, 211, and 3 others in the lot.

The fact that several "warm"

spectacles were made against the colonial, imperialistic, or expansion question when that subject was debated by the Prandential Club, at its last meeting with Prof. Clark, when the time came to sit down for supper everybody took the affirmative side and such "expansion" had not been witnessed here "since the last picnic." One member expanded until the responsibility was too great for his vest buttons and they gave way to the universal sentiment in favor of sudden and abnormal growth. Hereafter the subject will be debated with strict regard to the acquisition of territory and not the consumption and assimilation of such delicate spectacles as Prof. Clark's.

Two Ridiculous Questions Asked at Teachers' Examination.

Our attention has been called by a school teacher of this county to some ridiculous problems in arithmetic which were recently submitted to the county teachers, and if the State Superintendent is guilty of pronouncing it illegal to approve them, then the woodcock's remarks are in order. Here are two of the silly questions:

"How many bushels of sugar for $400,000? This fellow is considered by all to be one of the very highest types of an Eastern horse, and judging from his age and price, it plainly shows that it prides good horses."

Mr. Schleshauser Died. He Was a Highly Respected Citizen.

The announcement of the death of Gorhard Schleshauser, the well known tailor on Friday last, was received with expressions of profound regret in many portions of the community. His long residence here, his honesty, industry, and courtesy, attached to him many friends who mourn his death. He was 71 years old, was born in Germany, and came to America 40 years ago. He leaves a wife and son, Mr. Joe Schleshauser, the pharmacist, at B. L. Mitchell's.

Wise Words on Work Itself.

Some cynical Parisians have been heard to remark that Paris needs a workhouse for her petty criminals more than she does a public library for the elite. And they are not far wrong, at that. The average Negro wants a jail sentence as merely an invitation to spend a few months in a winter resort where he can be fed and housed at the tax-payers' expense. The head of a workhouse for the black and white, young and old, who infest Paris, is only too apparent, and their labor would bring the city a revenue,—Paris Keudanik.

Court Items.

Auctioneer Prewitt reports having sold twenty-five head of horses and mules, ranging in price from $60 to $100.

W. S. Jones sold a bunch of heifers to Matt Gibson at $35.

Joe McCormick sold 53 head of steers to J. B. Adams of Lincoln, at $75.70.

With a four-inch snow and low thermometer Monday's court day was fairly well attended. 800 cattle in sight, at 3 to 5 cents 40 miles on market. A car load went to Cartersville and Beard at $60 to $80 a head.

Mr. Combs' Formal Announcement.

MOREROV, KY., Feb. 6—1890.

To the Members of Madison County, Ky.

I have been urged by my many friends to announce myself for re-election to the next General Assembly of Kentucky. I take this opportunity of announcing to my friends my intention of again making the race. I shall be subject to the will and action of the Democratic party. I feel that my experience in the last General Assembly will enable me to accomplish more good and to be more useful to my people in the next General Assembly than I was in my first or present term.

Big Tobacco Sale.

Mr. R. N. Benaley, Post Lick's tobacco king, sold 100 bushels of tobacco last week to N. K. Foster, of Winchester.

Mr. White Will Announce.

Mr. Jno. F. White makes the Climax to state that at the proper time he will announce his candidacy to succeed himself as County Clerk, notwithstanding his failing health.

Indian Skeletons Found.

Wm. Peale dug into Indian mound on his farm two miles east of Paint Lick, and unearthed two Indian skeletons. The bones were all well preserved and are now on exhibition at Mr. Peale's home, Col. Bennett H. Young, please take notice.

Lost Package.

On last Saturday, Jan. 28, a package was lost from the express wagon between L. & N. depot and office. Package was addressed to Mr. G. G. Corralius, and contained insurance papers. Reward will be paid for the return to Adams Express Co.

FOR SALE.

—The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Mrs. J. M. Poynett, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Shot Through the Leg.

Wm. Smith, of Whites Station, while sitting in the waiting room of the L. & N. depot at that place last Wednesday, accidentally discharged a 38 revolver, the ball passing through the calf of his leg and lodging in the floor. The wound was dressed by Dr. Wm. Martin of Kingston, and he is now recovering rapidly.

Says It Works Like a Charm.

The patrons of E. Pendleton & Co. agree that their cash system is beneficial to all parts. Cash gets a much larger quantity of groceries now and that renders the change instantly satisfactory. In the course a month many dollars are saved in the course of a year, perhaps one whole month's expenses have been saved, etc.

Let Daniel Rest.

The Register calls the attention of the local D. A. R. to the propriety of entering the bones of Daniel Boone, whose tombstone at Frankfort is fast crumbling away. To bury the bones of the great pioneer at Boonesboro, this country, while sufficiently sentimental, would be truly to "bury" them, for the site of the old fort is twelve miles from a railroad, on the river bank, and is inundated in times of high water. Let Boone's remains rest where they are, where thousands can view them, in the capital of our State, overlooking the river on whose banks in this county he made the first settlement in Kentucky.

Everyone Present Favored Expansion. Remarkable Change of Sentiment. Prof. Clark Responsible.

Despite the fact that several "warm"

spectacles were made against the colonial, imperialistic, or expansion question when that subject was debated by the Prandential Club, at its last meeting with Prof. Clark, when the time came to sit down for supper everybody took the affirmative side and such "expansion" had not been witnessed here "since the last picnic."

A Candidate.

Gov. Bob Taylor, who has been one times out of number, and ought to know, thus describes a candidate: "Every honest man who runs for office is a candidate for trouble; for the fruits of political victory turn to ashes on the lips. To me there is nothing in this world so pathetic as a candidate. He is like a mariner without a compass, drifting on the tempest-tossed waves of uncertainty, between the smiling cliffs of hope and the frowning crags of fear. He is a walking petition and a living prayer; he is the pack horse of public sentiment; he is the drayhorse of politics. And even if he reaches the goal of his ambition he will soon feel the heat of the vulture in his heart and the fangs of the serpent in his soul."

ARE YOU A DEMOCRAT?

An old adage reads: "There is a place for everything, and for everything to be in its place." The LOUISVILLE DISPATCH does not find a place in the scheme of every Democratic paper in the South. It has distinguished itself as the people's paper, owned by the people, and is always ready to fight for the cause of the people. IT STANDS GUARDEDLY ON THE SIDE OF THE PEOPLE. It will do what the air can't do—the Gold and Blue Monarchs, and a fair comparison of its news service (now being furnished over teletype wires by the New York Star, the Chicago Inter-Ocean, and the New Orleans Times) along with that of any other paper, will fully verify its claim. If you see it, will fully verify its claim, and if it's so it is always in the Dispatch.

The Dispatch also has a staff of over 200 native correspondents in the South, and will POSITIVELY GUARANTEE MORE THAN DOUBLE THE SOUTHERN NEWS of all other Louisville papers. Get the Dispatch. It gives the news and the truth about it.

black-eyed hawker and dealer in business horses at Richmond.

He has the reputation of being a keen buyer and a good judge of a horse.

I asked him the other day why he had sold so many walk-trot horses and so few gaited saddle horses.

This should be explained to the uninitiated that a walk-trot horse is a soldier for the Eastern market that can only walk, trot and lop, while the gaied horse, or Kentucky saddle also goes the rack, or single foot, and a good, comfortable, slow gait.

Mr. Cohen

replied: "I like the walk-trot horse because he makes me more money.

I can train six walk-trot horses while I am fitting one gaied horse for the market, and when I am done, the walk-trot horse will bring as much as the other.

"Do you dock many of your horses,

Mr. Cohen?" "Well, if his tail is not perfect I always dock him, but I do not follow the practice of docking as some doctors do. To show how unsafe a practice it is, I took a little cobby-built black mare to New York last year, with a nice, long tail.

A lady customer said she would buy her if I could cut off her tail.

So, by paying a man ten dollars to risk the infringement of the New York law against docking I had her tail cut off, and took her around to the Indian who changed her mind, was cold as a wedge, and I could not persuade her to take her, and a dozen people after-said they would buy her if she had had a nice long tail.
